Headmistress' Message

Dear Graduates of 1998,

You are on the threshold of stepping out into the "real world", of leaving The Study, which has been such a significant part of your young lives, and which has helped to make you into confident young women ready to face the challenges that await you.

This year, 1997-1998, is a significant one for both you and me. It is a closing for you, but a new beginning for me. Because our association is a recent one, I am certain there are many things we do not know about each other. However, it is precisely because of this, that I have been observant and tuned into you, my Grads of '98.

We first met over lunch last spring, and I remember your warm welcome and openness. Indeed, you shared your aspirations and anxieties, and made me feel that I belong among you, and that this school year would allow us to become friends. I was struck by how united you were as a group and, though the uniform gave you a homogenous look, how incredibly diverse you were as individuals. You speak eight languages among you, putting those who can't master two to shame! I have since come to realize that your class is very representative of The Study, a microcosm in its own right. What impresses me is that you know, respect, and welcome your differences. Our guest speaker, Gwynne Dyer, pointed out that there is possibly a future for Quebec in Canada because of the multicultural nature of our country. This means there is a hope for the future because there are individuals like you: educated, enlightened and open to others.

You have taken your roles as leaders seriously, organizing events that included everyone, often on a daily basis. You have never been too busy to reach out to those around you. You are wonderful ambassadors for our school.

Before you know it, the year will have come to a close and you will have moved on. I was fortunate for I am richer because our paths crossed. You are fortunate because your Alma Mater has prepared you to take on the challenges facing our country, facing our world.

I wish you health, happiness and success throughout your lives.

Sincerely,

Mary Liistro Hebert

The best way to grab your students' attention . . .

Mrs. Balfour: What do you think you are doing?
Mr. Carriere: It doesn't really matter what I say, as long as I raise my voice!
Mme. Charpentier: Monsieur Carriere...
Mme. Dion: Ok les filles, on a un petit quiz...
Mrs. Doetsch: -bam, -bas, -bat, -bamus...(with clapping)
Mrs. Ewing: No, you don't have a different map from everyone else. Your map is upside down.
Mr. Hamilton: You might want to know this for the test.
Mr. McCauley: What was your password?
Mrs. Milligan: Has anybody heard that Leonardo DiCaprio will be in town this week? No?!! I didn't think so, but now that I have your attention...
Ms. Reingewirtz: Who wants to be defenestrated?
Mrs. Sutherland: If you don't want to do homework, then...
Miss Wellnhofer: The easiest way to get their attention? "Let's talk about Cotillion."
Mrs. Zimmer: Eh las muchacas! Escuchenme!

Just Havin' Fun . . .

GRADS '98

Marie Khediguian 1986 - 1998

So, this is it. My final say at The Study, before I face the real world. First, this picture is very bad. All good things have an end, I guess which also means that another good experience is around the corner. The Study was like a dream with good parts and bad parts incorporated into one, yet it's time I woke up and lived some reality. Thank-you to all the teachers who helped me believe in myself. Please don't forget me "'Cause I suddenly feel like a different person, from the roots of my soul come a gentle coersion, as the darkness turned into the dawn...THE CHILD IS GONE."-Fionna Apple Obsessive sisters: Jonathon Brandis (I'm so ashamed), Leo, coffee pot/beret man (I'm going to get him, I swear). Julia Guerreiro 1997 - 1998

Hey Grade 11! This year passed so fast! Wow! I had a wonderful time with you guys and my memories will be with me for the rest of my life. I'll never forget the " sweeties in the rain", Cotillion, Spring Ball, the parties, the "after parties", the day after the parties, trip to Quebec, volleyball, track and field, tennis, rollerblade, a lot of apples, "Quizzes", "talks", the classes, history classes, the cute uniform, the people in the school... Venezuelans, Chinese, Egyptians, Hungarians, Armenians, Hindus, Brasilians and finally, the Canadians.

I love you all,

Julia

"Rivers know this: There is no hurry. We shall get there some day"
(Don't worry, I may be late, but I promise, I'll get there too) - Winnie-the-Pooh
I remember the snowflake that Sharon made me when I came to visit in grade 6. I have had SO many adventures, from my first party, to truth-or-dare at the Round Hearth, to the fire alarm at the CC, to exploring the Chateau Frontenac... I can't imagine not sharing every moment of my life with u, we have grown together, learned together, lived together. We'll always have our memories. Never let school interfere with your education!!! :) To all my teachers, I will never forget u. Thank u for your support, confidence, and for helping me with anything and everything. Mummy and Daddy, I would NEVER have made it here without u. Lis and Doodze, I love u and we'll always have each other. Our many adventures have taught me everything I know and do, and I will never forget one single detail of them. MB-Roman Banquet, gimme 5. DF-Prince W. JG-Campenis, our animation project. JH-vocab queen. SH-common sense, SCIENCE FAIR, Kelvin, Jon, "I have to go". DK-prefects, perfect collection, KK. NK-the park, buns of steel, swing heil, birdienumnum. MK-KK, Marc, swing heil, DGG, rat boy. Ta-chem labs, ANITA!!!, guida butta. AM-Mr.Bean, geo in the office. SO-the baguette, tzatziki @ tree, Moe's, SJ, our party, 69. CR- jogging in heaven, EAT-A-BED, life. IT-servos, the tent, climbing on the car. Each person in our class is unique, and we all have something vital and different to offer the world. Never forget that!!! Thanx for putting up with all of my things, and for being the most wonderful, amazing friends anyone could ever have. I will always love you guys!!! Joanna Karoline Herba 1993 - 1998

Hi guys! I can't believe it's already over! It seems like just yesterday we were on our way to French camp in grade seven.It's going to be so strange not seeing you guys 24/7. I feel like I should come up with some intelligent quote or motto that everyone will strive to live by, but I can't. So instead I want to thank e'one in the Class of '98 for always making me laugh, because I couldn't have survived otherwise.The last 5 yrs. have been so much fun and it's impossible to sum them up in 15 lines but here goes:Ski days,"YMCA",he's one sick puppy, Pooossee Kaat,Katja&Edna,Germany,Loyola play,SHS dance, grad, Blue-hat boy,Bob&Bob thru soap down hall!,actually we are from Montreal(C Rie),Diana are we there yet?,Mar no more close-ups. Miss U all & good luck, Luv Jo

Wow, these 3 years went by really fast. But I THINK I still had a great time here @ The Study. SH-so don't forget to send me e-mail & tell me all those little adventures u have in Toronto. NK-let's hope that we can get into Oxford. AH-my chem lab partner, are u sure? JH-u always take my seat in chemistry. SO-be careful Shiv, u are going to blow up the whole lab again. Remember don't KEEY yourself. JG-give me a hug please. DF-pass me your agenda! RC-dim sum, ha gua xian mai, or shrimp dumpling. MK-don't panic. AMorin-Heute ist dienstag, right?

The time has passes at a very very fast speed, no velocity at all. And fortunately or unfortunately, we are going to graduate this year, so let's hope for more joy in the following years.

Thanks to all my teachers who have helped me for the past 3 years. Ottawa, Stratford, Qc City & Tadoussac, all these wonderful moments will never be forgotten. I know I am going to miss u guys. I'll never forget my grad class'98. Good luck to all of u and hopefully, we'll all meet again someday...

Love, Ta

Andréanne Morin 1992 - 1998

Our good times are nearly gone, and I'm bound to move on. Its hard to look back and believe it was six years and not one. I could easily compare my years at The Study to a McDonald's Drivethru. It went by too fast, although it was definately worthwhile (it wasn't fast food). I cannot stay on neutral at the door for much longer (although I wish I could), I must move on and strive for future goals. In my years ahead, I hope that somewhere along my path, all our lines will cross and that in the distance, there will be a familiar face. Shiv, Amy, Julia, Dal, Ildi, Steph, Rach, Jess.F, and the rest of the bunch, I love you all and will forever treasure the memories I shared with you. Aims: out and about Shiv: I don't care Steph: pepper 1 Dal: I've known you for too long. Oh yeah, before I leave you: Class of '98, you rock . . . :

. . . never forget your dreams... Andreanne XOX

Jennifer Alexandra Pothitos 1987 - 1998

When I think back to the 11 years I've spent here my first impressions are WOW! I can still remember my first day of school, feeling nervous and holding onto my mother, but I soon made friends and knew this was the school for me. On the whole I have mostly good memories. One of the best school trips was Stratford, the plays were great and I had the most entertaining roommates. Thanks to my classmates for always being so encouraging and understanding. To the Latin domies, we had a lot of laughs and that was great. Thanks to all the teachers especially Ms. Fry, Mrs. Doetsch and Mme. Beaudoin for taking the extra time to help me when I needed it, and for their encouragement. I really appreciated it. Many thanks to my parents for supporting me all these years, and to my cousin Jason for being a person I could talk to and trust. Good luck to everyone in the graduating class of 1998.

Cristina Yvonne Remond 1986 - 1998

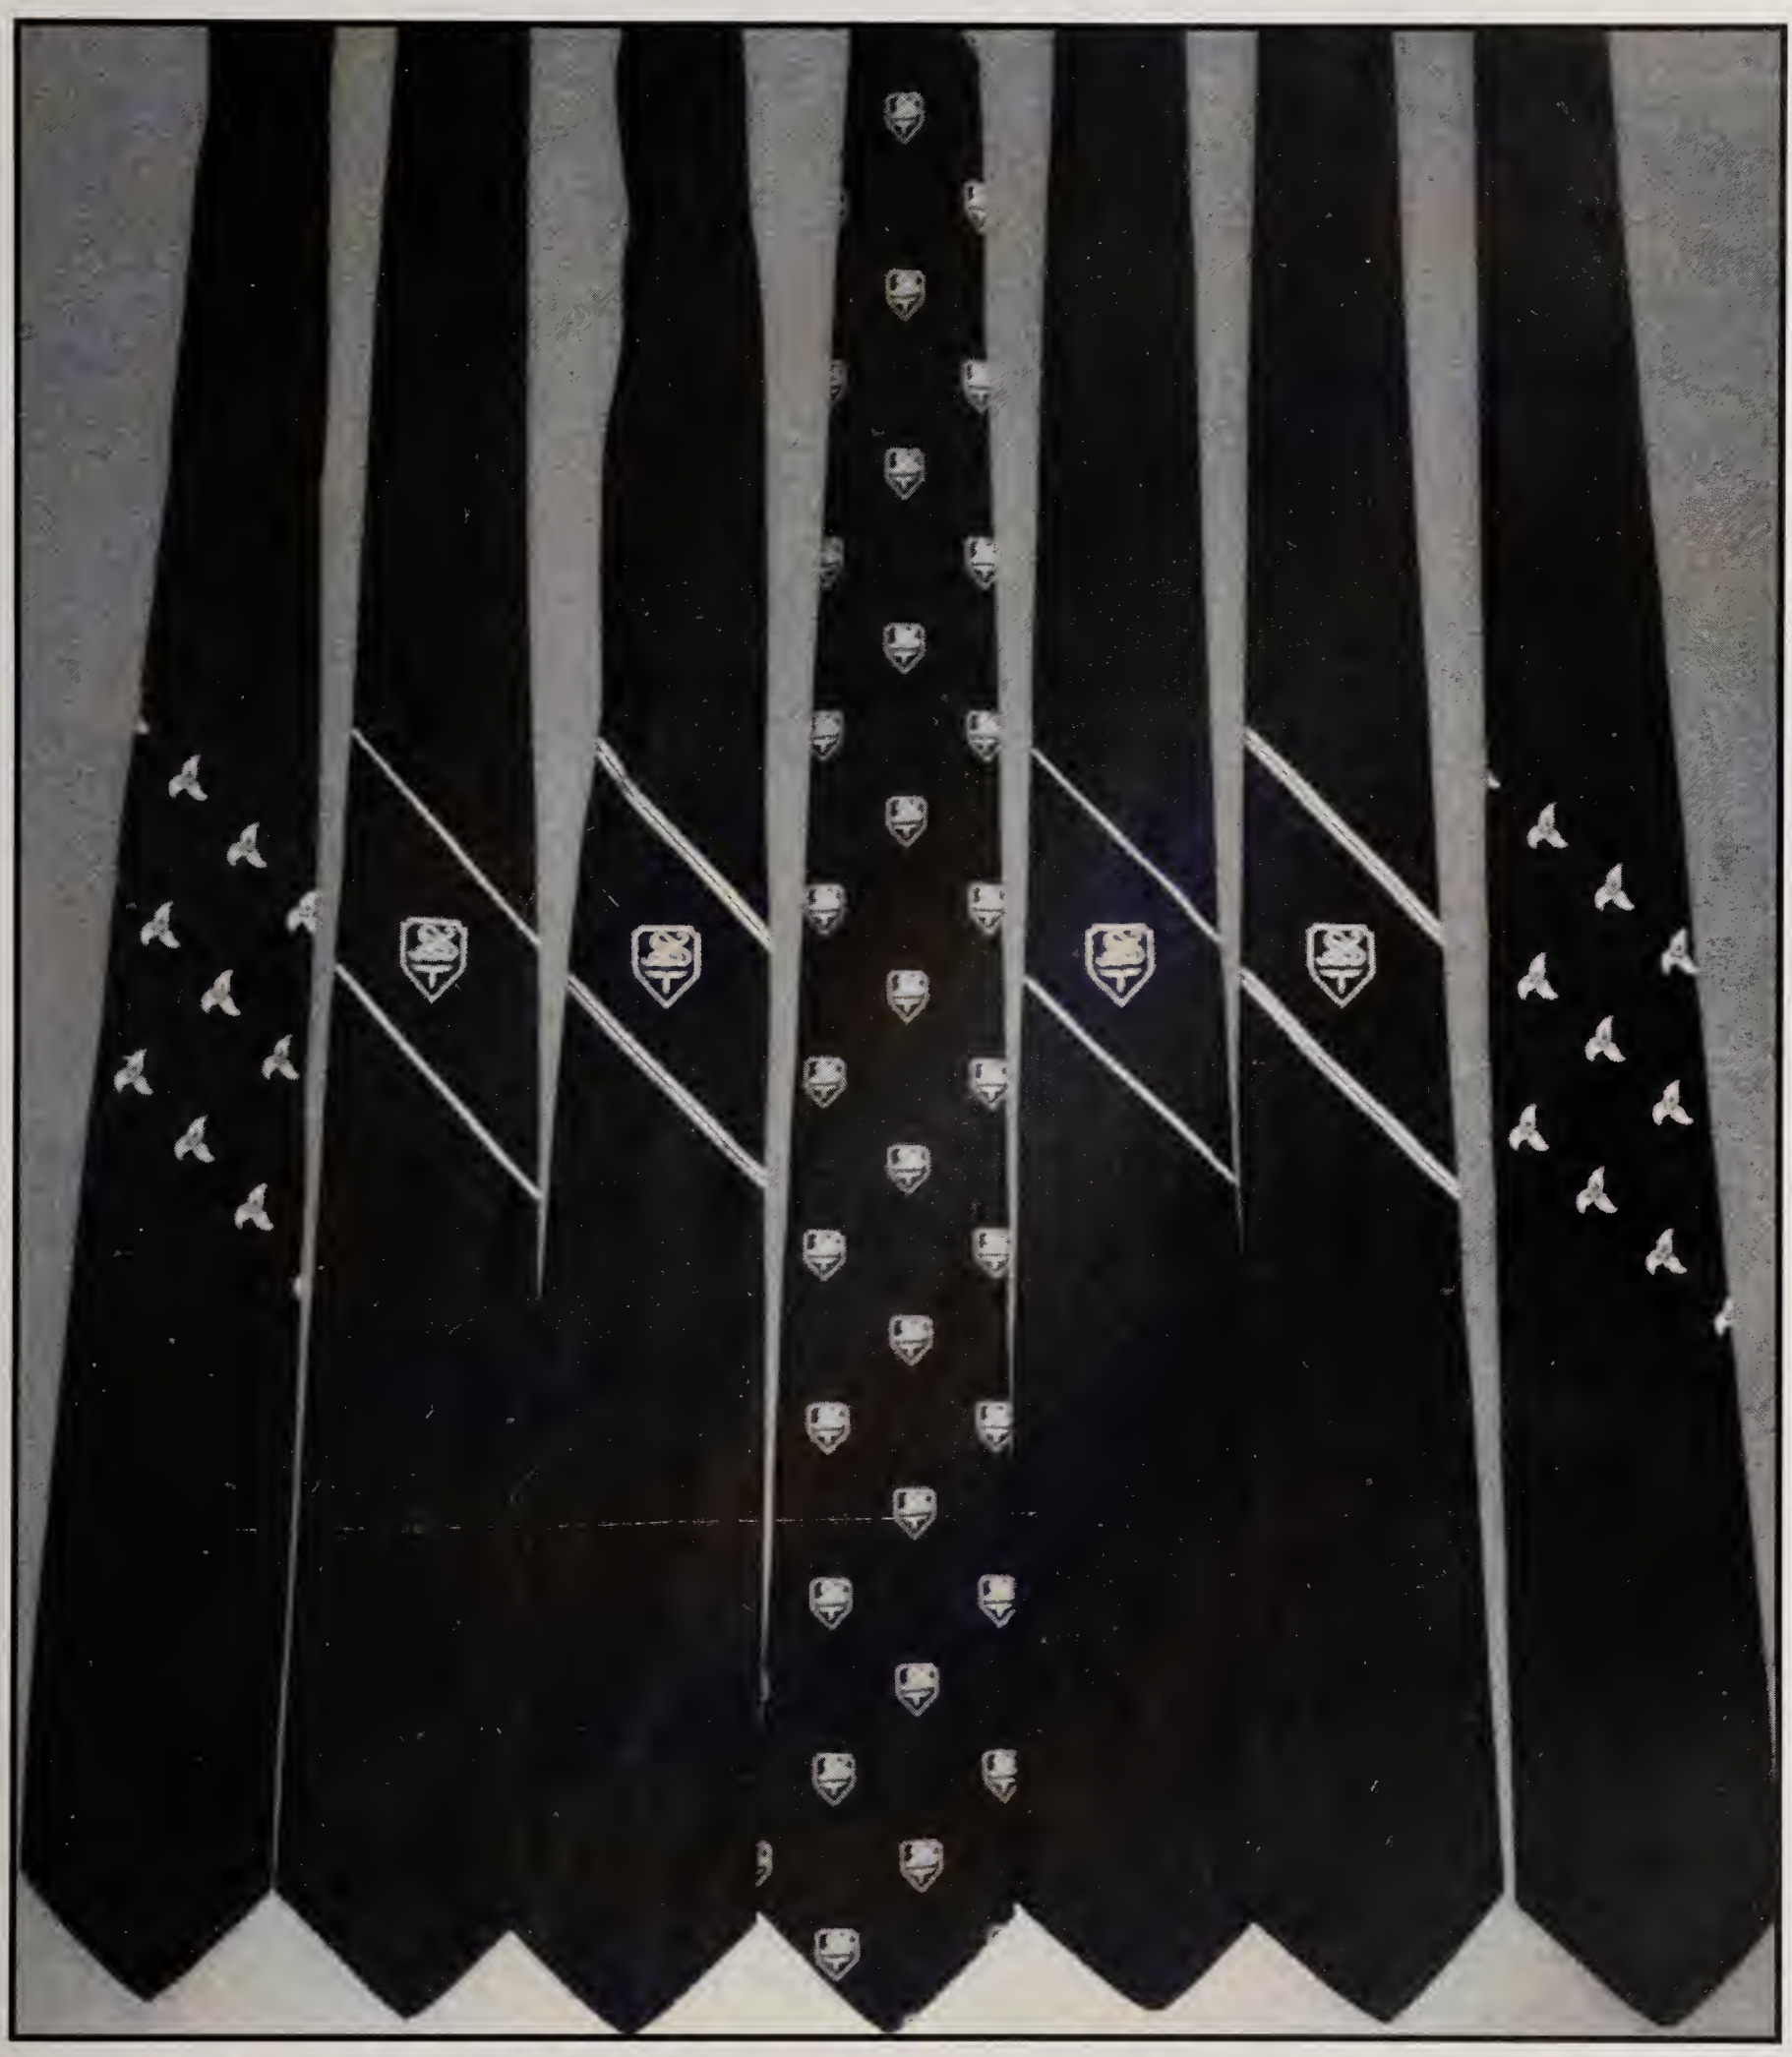
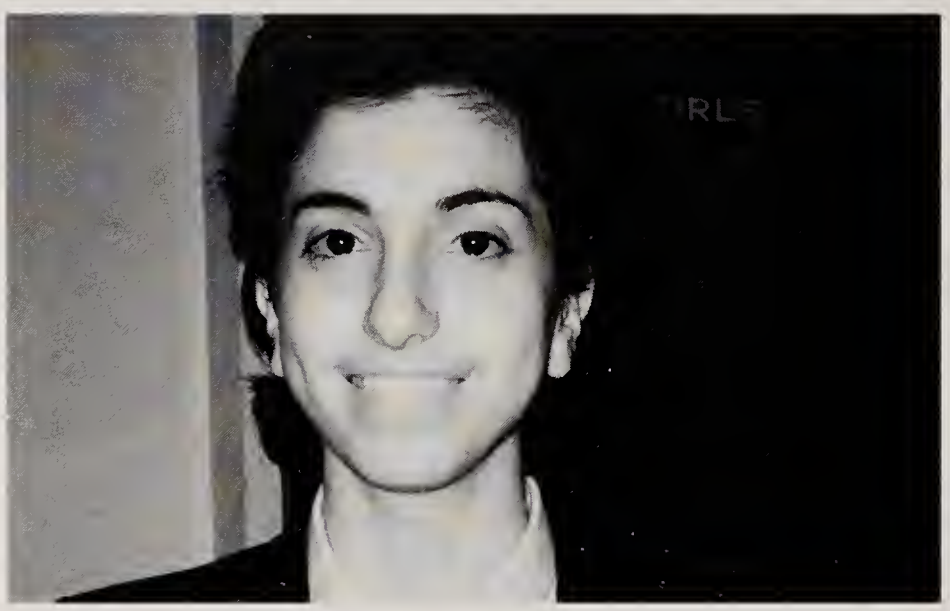
Behind the Scenes: A Part of The Action!!



Committees

Head And Sub-Head

The Big Talking Heads



As some great philosophers once said, "I get knocked down, but I get up again. You ain't ever gonna keep me down." (Chumbawamba). Throughout the year we got discouraged many times, but after over-dosing on sugar, we bounced right back up again. Sacrificing our lunch periods was really worth it, since this year was such a success (the best you've ever had). We started new traditions (Spirit Week) and revived the old ones from the dead. We are proud to say we were never late, unorganized, or full of complaints (yeah right!!). Okay, so maybe we complained a bit . . . but we got the job done and, if we may say so ourselves, we did a great job!!

But, remember, we couldn't have done anything without your enthusiasm and participation. The person who definitely deserves the most thanks is Frau Sutherland!! This is Marie and Shivani signing off....p.s. we da BOMB!!

Sports Captain

I hope you will all take advantage of our new gym next year and use it to the fullest, but always remember the old one!! We definitely made the best of it and were extremely spirited and enthusiastic.

Just a suggestion to everybody for later on in life: find a balance between sports and academics. Keep doing sports and train hard, it will pay off later in life.

Live your dreams,

love,

Andréanne

Treasurer

Greetings, fellow evil-fighters! In the past year, we have united and become one body against all Evil. It was my honor to lead you in our battle for Goodness. We, my warriors, have helped so many people. We have helped homeless teenagers, people with Alzheimers, breast cancer, AIDS... It may seem that our contribution was insignificant in this world, but it has not gone unnoticed. Do not fear, dear do-gooders, kindness and love are never forgotten.

I, on behalf of our empire, thank you and commend your tremendous efforts against Wrong. I take this opportunity to thank Grade 11 for their skill in money rolling and Mrs. McArthur for her aid. I know that, long after I have joined other armies of Good, you will continue to stand against Evil. The force is with you. Peace out. Fight the Evil.

Luv, your fearless leader, Martha

Beta Lambda

Beta Lambda is red hot, dynamite, the greatest, the best, and most definitely the coolest house of all. Need we say more? . . . . okay.

We're amazing over all, but especially in sports and academics. To all green-and-whites out there: thank you for your constant spirit, for bringing in excellents every week, and for making BL the best house to work with. We're going to miss you all.

Cristina, Adriana, & Aleta.
MESS WITH THE BEST,
DIE LIKE THE REST!!!

Left to right: Christina Remond, Adriana Valera, and Aleta Brott.

Delta Beta

Clockwise from left: Caroline Fakhry, Rachel Leider and Nidhi Khanna.

Delta Beta do your thing! 'Sup, 'Sup! First of all, we'd like to give a huge shout out to all our DB troopers. Thanks for your spirit, excellents and house points. You've all helped to keep the number one house intact and on top.

There's no doubt that next year's officials will have just as much fun as we did. We're proud of you, good luck. We out.

DB crew officials,
Nidhi, Caroline, Rachel.

Kappa Rho

Hello. Hey, hey, hey!! Was up, KP? We, your beloved house heads wanted to make this short and sweet: We had an amazing year with you guys. . . you will never be forgotten - you can have our word on that. Thanks to everyone for bringing in all those excellents, house points, and sports points. Good luck to next year's officials. Keep up the spirit, all y'all. We luv ya!!! Hope to see you all some time in the near future . . .

bye!!
Ray, Aims & Miriam

Top to bottom: Amy Minsky, Rachel Cytrynbaum, and Miriam McLeod.

Mu Gamma

Hello, our darling Mugammian Rangers!

Because of your ever-present and ever-lasting spirit, never-ending waterfall of house points, spirit points and sports points, and deafening enthusiasm, this year has been DA BOMB for your beloved house leaders! Remember all the fun we had (Men in Black, seat-changing game, etc), and look forward to all that's coming up next year! We'll miss you!!

Love,
Sharon, Andrea & Kaitlyn

Wow, you never realize how much work goes into organizing a dance until you do it yourself! Anyway, we still had a blast doing it.

We'd like to thank everyone in our class who helped us with all the events (ie. cutting tickets, delivering tickets, picking up money from tickets, . . .) We'd also like to thank Frau Sutherland for all her help, all the staff members for giving up their Friday nights to chaperone, and everyone in the school who participated in the events.

Good luck to next year's committee!

Love,
Joanna, Senior Prefect,
and Rachel, Alysia, and Ildiko.

Tuck

I never realized that the sight of chocolate could make me think of: "Diana, where's the key?" "Diana, there's no more Pringles!" Diana . . ." .

I'm glad it's over, but it was great, and I don't regret a thing.

Thanks to Jules, Shivani, Adriana, Nidhi, teachers and Roland for all their help in the tuck shop.

Lots of love to all!!
Diana Farr, Senior Prefect

Grad

This year's grad committee has done a great job organizing the Graduation for the class of '98. We would like to thank all the people who helped coordinate this very special event. An especially big thank you has to go out to Frau Sutherland who helped us tremendously, and was very supportive and encouraging with everything. We know that the Study Grad weekend of '98 will be remembered by everyone taking part. Long live the Graduating Class of 1998!

Well, what can we say, it's been an . . . interesting year! Everyone worked really hard, and every issue we published was great! Unfortunately we didn't publish too many issues . . .

Thanks a lot , everyone who helped in any way. Two "thank you's" especially, to Ms. Rein for pushing us as hard as she possibly could, and to Nidhi for working so hard on that first issue. (You're an honorary editor in our hearts).

There's a lot of talent in this school, and we're sure that next year's paper will be even better than this one!

Good luck to everyone,

EAT-A-BED!!! This year, debate began with a whole new perspective. With a new coach to get us started, we learned new techniques and got to participate in cool, new activities such as the McGill debate seminar at Selwyn House, and tournaments at other schools. We also go to appear on television on "Up For Debate", have snowball fights, and teach each other to climb trees.

Because of these reasons, we, the Study Debate Squad, firmly believe that we have been, are, and always will be the leanest, meanest debate squad around.

To our coach, Andrew, and our Staff advisor, Ms. Reingewirtz, we could never have done it without you.

This year's Classics was... well, shall we say interesting? After a rather tumultuous year, we'd like to thank all the members who stuck with us and made this year so entertaining. Special thanks to Mrs. Doetsch for her support and encouragement. Good luck to next year's club, and to Mrs. Doetsch in her overseas adventure.

Sports

Bantam Soccer

This year, the bantam soccer team had a successful season. We won three games, lost three, and tied one. We made the playoffs, though we lost in the first round. We had a lot of fun this season!!

Good luck to next year's bantams!!

Juvenile Soccer

Well guys, after 19 years of hard work, determination and of course the "Study Soccer Spirit", we brought home a plaque from Stanstead! There was no way either of us were leaving this school without winning something!! We know it's going to be hard for you guys to cope without us, but we know you can do it ("If you believe it, you can achieve it!!"). We'll never forget Victoria '95 (The restaurant, Callie the waiter, whipped cream, Japanese tourists taking our pictures...)

This year's bantam basketball team was composed of thirteen players. Unfortunately, one of our teammates broke her leg half-way through the season. We had lots of fun, although we only won two of our scheduled games. It was a short season because of the ice storm, but we still had a great time during games, practices, and at Bishop's.

Thanks to Mr. Carrière for coaching us, and to everyone who came to watch our games. Good luck to next year's bantam team!!

Juvenile Basketball

Well, guys, "we won a few, we lost a few!!" (We all know that numbers don't really matter . . . We're sure everyone will agree that we learned a lot this year. You're not convinced? Okay, we learned important lessons like: a) losing can be fun, too!! b) Scores are un unfair measurement of a teams worth. c) long bus rides from Bishops can be SO much more fun when they're shared with the Spice Girls . . . Will that ever be forgotten? Oh yeah . . . Shannon's a great gymnast . . . heh heh heh.

Juvenile Volleyball

This year, the Volleyball team was very priviledged to participate in a wonderful tournament held in Granby. We had a great team, and played very well throughout the season. We qualified to continue into the playoffs, but were unable to win our first round.

Congratulations to all the players,
Thank you to Ms. Carrière,
Good luck to the team next year!

Badminton

Despite Jenny's walkman and wallet being stolen, and frequent trips to McDonald's before tournaments, the badminton team had an otherwise very productive season. The doubles teams improved their skills, and the singles players continued playing with strength and determination.

Here's to a great season!!

Tennis

This year's tennis team did an amazing job. After a couple of days of playing at Rockland, we started looking like real pros. So we were now ready for the big final. I think it was one of the best. Congratulations to Jessica Tory for winning a bronze medal. Thanks, also, to Ms. Crossley for her encouragement.

Good luck next year!!!

La Quatrième Année Au Petit Bonheur

En automne, nous sommes allées au "Petit Bonheur".
Nous sommes restées trois jours et deux nuits.
Le Petit Bonheur est situé dans La Forêt Mixte où nous avons joué à plusieurs jeux.
Nous avons fait des activités dehors malgré la mauvais température.
Il a plu deux jours et neigé l'autre journée.
Nous mangions dans la caféteria du camp.
Après le repas, nous jouions à des jeux avec les instructeurs.
Nous avons cuisiné du pain et raconté des histoires dans la cabane lointaine dans le bois.
Le dernier jour, nous avons fait du canoë et de la voile.

Grade 6
'Porte - au - Saumon'
by Angie Ip

It was a cold September morning, today was the day that we, The Study's grade six's, will go to Port-au-Saumon St. Fidèle, Charlevoix for an entire week. At around 7:45, we were ready to leave. There beside the bus, you see parents kissing their daughters good-bye. Finally, at 8:00 am, we were ready to go knowing that one exciting week was ahead.

Some of the activities we did were archery, rock climbing, and visiting different parts of nature such as a canyon and an aquarium full of sea creatures. There were also three different projects done by three groups of different people. The projects were plant ecology, little mammals and insects, and bacteria.

We also had different activities at night. One of my favorites was the search for Yeti. In this game, or adventure, we, the class, had been given the mission to find Yeti, the legend. Another game was Banco. An exiting game played with dice. The last night at camp, we had a camp fire in the woods and we played games, sang songs, and even acted out a story around the fire. It was a moment I won't forget.

Finally, the time had come for us to go home after such a full and splendid week. We packed up our bags, said good-bye to our counselors, got on the bus, and were ready to go. Another six hours quickly passed, and we were in Montréal again. We will never forget the fun and excitment of Port-au-Saumon St. Fidèle, Charlevoix.

La septième année à Grande-Bergeronne

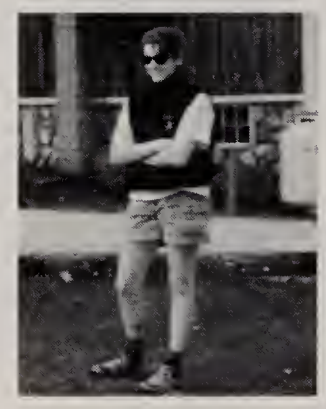
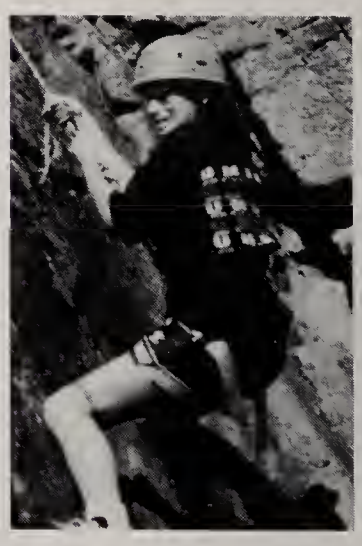
par Edlyn Wu

Au milieu de septembre, la classe de septième année est allée à Grande-Bergeronne. Là bas, on est allée aux cuvettes au bord du St. Laurent. On s'est promenée. On a aussi fait une croissière où on a vu des baleines et des phoques. À Tadoussac, on est allée à "l'Interprétation des Mammifères Marins" (IMM). On s'est amusée beaucoup.

Grade 8 and 9 to:

Outdoor Ed





Québec & Tadoussac

This September, the Grade 10's and 11's went to Québec and Tadoussac, accompanied by Mme McNamara and Mme Beaudoin. We spent quite a few hours on the bus, but we had a great time. We explored the Old City and the Château Frontenac in Québec, visited two grain mills on l'Île au Coudes, took several amazing ferry rides, went to the Chutes Mont-Morency, walked along the boardwalk in Tadoussac, stayed at the beautiful Hôtel de Tadoussac, and best of all, we went on a whale watching tour in the Saguenay River. We also ate lunch in the cafeteria of an enormous school.
We all had a great time!!!

Congratulations to the Class of 1998 from The Study Old Girls Association

S.O.G.A. was formally constituted in 1923, eight years following the foundation of The Study. Its purpose: to provide a link between graduates and the school, to act as a resource centre, and to assist the school in fundraising and the organisation of special events and activities.

As a Study graduate, you will join those before you, who now live and work in all regions of the world. S.O.G.A. provides the framework for you to keep in contact with friends, and the school, through invitations to school functions and special events, twice yearly Newsletters, and S.O.G.A bulletins. Using our web page and e-mail address, we can now give alumna in Warsaw the address of a classmate, and reconnect with a group of Study girls now living in New Yourk.

As you continue to explore your future and take on new challenges, remember to keep in touch:

Self Portrait
by Rachel Cytrynbaum
Secondary Five

The hot wax fills the mold. The wax can fit any mold it is put into. Soft and malleable at first, the candle is formed. The candle stands tall and firm. At first it appears to be indestructable. After, it feels helpless to the heat of the burning wick. The candle fills the room with light. It flickers with the wind, yet continues to burn.

The light blinds me as I try and find my place. The wick is drowned out by the melting wax. Drowning in my sorrows, my anxiety rises. The light is dim, yet there is a spark of hope. I triumph and the candle burns bright. There is a gust of wind and the sparkle has died out. I sit in the dark thinking about what has gone wrong. However not for long, someone has reached out and relit the candle. It struggles at first, but in a short period of time, I resume my usual self. The candle shines brightly.

I, like the candle, flicker with the wind. At times the candle can burn brightly, as I stand tall. At other times its light is dim, and I am barely noticed. The strength of the flame struggles to bring light to the room, as I do with my family. The day is done, and the candle is blown out. I sleep awaiting the light of a new day.

Secondary I

Before I go to sleep at night,
I hear the tv blaring the news
My mom comes in the room,
And I feel love
Then dad comes in,
I feel safety
When he's left,
I tiptoe slowly to the window
And ask, "Where are you grandma?"
Then as softly and as quietly as a mouse
Back to bed, lay down my head,
Close my eyes,
And sleep till 'morn.

Der Eissturm 1998
bei Lisa Abramowicz
9. Klasse

Der Sturm war streng und unerwartet, besonders für die Leute ohne Strom. Wir haben Strom gehabt, meine Familie und ich. Unser Haus was sehr kalt, und einer von meinen Vögeln ist erfroren. Die Bäume waren schön, wenn sie bedeckt mit Eis waren, aber jetzt viele sind kaputt und es ist traurig. Es war ein Erlebnis!

My family Song
Erica Leibner
Secondary I

I walk through the dark wood door,
into the warmth and coziness of my house.
I smell the hot soup boiling on the stove.
I look through the huge glass windows
of my kitchen,
And admire the trees and the flowers.
I realise how beautiful life is.
A familiar sound comes to my ears,
the sound of my bird,
the sound of safeness and coziness.
I stroke his colourful feathers,
And feel as though I'm stroking
the colors of the rainbow.
I run upstairs to my beautiful room
to cuddle up on my bed.
My room is a special place,
a place where I can keep my thoughts,
secrets and feelings.
I go downstairs, where I find my whole family sitting at the dinner table waiting for me.
I sit down, while my dog places
his body over my feet.
He makes them feel warm,
and the warmth flows throughout my body,
like a cup of hot chocolate.
I take this time to relax
And have a break
from all the work and pressure of the day.

The Second Chance
by Lisa Heckler
Secondary II

I was an old lady,
Not looking forward to anything;
Not hoping, not wishing, not dreaming.

I had nothing left;
No family, no money, no friends.
A day passed, a month, a year...

My husband had died many years ago,
I tried to forget about him, about everything.
But in the back of my mind he still abided.

He whispered to me ever so quietly,
"Be brave, my love, be brave."
I tried not to listen, it hurt too much.

Then, one cool automn's mourn,
"He" came along
And our eyes met from the start.

He was a tall, handsome man,
Independent as the brilliant sun in clear skies,
Generous as the sun's rays, illuminating the world.

There was something special, so familiar...
He have me new hopes, wishes, dreams.
He taught me, I taught him.

Months passed, love was at its prime.
Then, he fell sick mysteriously
And died, carrying his permanent smile.

Right before, though, he whispered gently to me,
Monotonously but with an air of content,
"Be brave, my love, be brave."

I felt a stab in my heart,
I had remembered,
But at the same time I felt hope.

It was my second chance;
An urge to listen to the whispers,
As he lay in the back of my mind.

For the whispers were the hands that would push me
along,
Gide me through the last step of my life.
Now the words forever resound in my mind,
"Be brave, my love, be brave."

The Treasure Hunt
by Priscilla Hirst
Grade Two

Once upon a time, there was a little teddy bear who had a red ribbon tied around his neck. The little bear's name was Brownie. Brownie lived in a small house with his best friend, Cherry. Cherry had a blue ribbon around his neck. Brownie and Cherry knew each other since they were babies. They shared a cat together called Whiskers. Whiskers was a gray cat with long whiskers.

One Saturday morning, Brownie, Cherry, and Whiskers were all talking to each other when Brownie said, "I have an idea".
"What is it?" asked Cherry and Whiskers at the same time.
"We can have a treasure hunt," said Brownie.
"Good idea," said Cherry.
"Do you think it's a good idea?" asked Brownie.
"Yes," said Whiskers.
"All right. Let's go," said Cherry.
Brownie, Whiskers, and Cherry looked for the treasure almost all afternoon.
"I am tired. Let's look again another time," said Brownie.
"Yes, let's try again later," agreed Cherry.

They all took a rest and went to sleep. While they were sleeping they all had a dream about the treasure hunt. The next morning, when everyone woke up, they shared their dreams with each other. Whiskers dreamed that they did not find the treasure, but they had a great time looking for it. Whiskers dreamed about a big treasure with gold and pearl necklaces. Brownies dream was the best of all. He dreamed that they found the treasure and they brought it home. They all decided to finish the treasure hunt. They walked and walked all day. It was about five o'clock, and they found it.
"Look, look," said Brownie, "I found it! I found it!"
"You did?" cried Cherry and Whiskers.
It was a big box. "Oh no!" said Whiskers. "It's locked."
"Oh no!" Whiskers said to Brownie.
"It will never work," said Cherry."Oh yes it will!" said Brownie.
"How?" said the other two.
"If we pull it as hard as we can and work together, it might work."
They pulled it all the way home.
"I want the purple jewels," said Cherry.
"I want the green ones," said Brownie.
They all shared the jewels and lived happily ever after.

Apple-blossoms blowing in the wind,
Bluebells, I can smell when I breathe in.
Clouds all fluffy white sail by,
Daisies hold their heads really high.
Isn't spring wonderful to see in full bloom?

Horses

Horses
Nice, adorable, elegant
Yesterday, today, tomorrow
I love them!

Déjeuner du matin
par le Secondaire III

Ô les oeufs!
Ô la confiture!
Que ma journée va être dure
Car mon lait est devenu sur!
J'ai brulé mes rôties,
J'ai renversé mon jus d'orange,
Je veux rester au lit
Quel déjeuner étrange!

Sonnet to my father
by Ildiko Tokes
Secondary V

A memory is all you left behind,
The day you waved goodbye and walked away.
You are but a picture in my mind,
Distant, strange and fading every day.

I do not know you, you're nothing to me
I do not love you, nor do I feel hate.
Once you were missed but now you are simply Foreign. Don't speak, father, it's too late.

You went so far away, while here I stayed,
For months, my tears fell like so many pearls.
You left me unprotected and afraid,
An endless chasm that I widen, but you made
The day you left your precious little girl.

Le chat et le rat
Inspiré de Jacques Prévert
par Secondaire I

J'ai vu un gros chat
Qui chassait un petit rat
Le rat était plat
Il était assis sur un matelas
Il mangeait des chocolats
Et buvait un café moka
Quand le rat a vu le chat
Il a commencé à danser le chacha
Avec un autre rat qui s'appelait Wawa
Les deux rats chantaient le macarena
Le chat ne savait pas pourquoi ils faisaient ça
Alors il a mangé les deux rats
    Et il est parti comme un scélérat
    Puis c'est la fin de ça.

Das Halloween Fest
von Jessica Stein
8. Klasse

Hallo, ich heisse Jessica. Heute ist Halloween Fest. Ich bin ein Gespenst. Meine Freundin ist eine Hexe. Sie ist grün. Die Kinder gehen von Haus zu Haus und essen Bonbons, und Schokolade. Meine Freundin, Mary, und ich, dekorieren unser Haus. Das ist sehr schreckhaft. Ich habe einen Kürbis der ist glücklich. Ich bekomme Geld für Unicef.

Ich bin sehr gluecklich, weil ich mache eine Party. Alle meine Freundinnen kommen zu meinem Haus und wir essen Bonbons. Halloween macht Spass.

These Days Are Nice
by Noor Al Heialy
Grade Two

The days are nice, the days are blue.
I never had friends like you.
And I never had teachers just like you.
You are the best. You are my flowers.
And you are bright ones too.

Orange, red, yellow, blue.
Green, pink, baby blue too.

You are sweet and kind too.
I love your voices.

You are the best, you are blue.
That's the only words I could say to you. You have too much kindness in you.

Metaphors
by Sarajane Froerer
Secondary IV

With a pencil in hand I attempt to sketch the face of the lady at the bus stop. Her face is a novel. At first glance, the cover is old and wrinkled. It is misshappen from years of handling. The pages or features tell a sad story of one who has been neglected. Eyes tell a tale of years of loneliness. The brow is furrowed from the many days spent trying to survive on the street. The mouth contains chapters and chapters of cries for help. She talks and talks, but everyone just skims over the pages and chapters then discards the book and old issues.

Le beau lundi qui revient
par Edlyn Wu
Secondaire I

C'est un beau lundi matin. Il est neuf heures et demie. Je me promène sur la belle plage silencieuse. Il y a un peu de vent. On peut le sentir. En marchant sur le sable, nos empreintes disparaissent rapidement à cause du vent. Sur la mer, les rayons du soleil brillent au-dessus de l'océan et créent de beaux reflets. Près des roches, des dizaines de visiteurs prennent des photos du paysage et quelques personnes dessinent cette merveilleuse plage.

Il est maintenant dix heures moins quart et c'est encore une belle journée ensoleillée. Sur la plage, il commence à y avoir des touristes et des visiteurs. Il y a beaucoup d'enfants qui nagent et jouent au ballon.
Maintenant, on entend des cris et des voix pleines de joie. Le vent commence à souffler un peu plus fort. Je ferme les yeux et je sens un vent froid J'ouvre les yeux. Au loin de grosses vagues violentes viennent vers nous. Tout à coup. le vent souffle très fort et devient d'un froid sibérien. Le soleil disparaît et les vagues sont très proches. Les cris d'horreur commencent et tout le monde court se sauver. Une petite tornade est tout à coup devant nous. On court et on court et soudainement, un très grand silence. Pas de tornade, ni de vagues violentes, juste les bruits du vent qui souffle. Le soleil et le beau lundi reviennent.

Loving a Ghost
by Adriana Valera
Secondary Five

Not so long ago I had you so close:
a part of my spirit, a part of my soul,
I couldn't touch you but I could feel you.

You were part of my heart
But now you are gone, gone forever,
like a ghost no one knows.

You appear in my dreams and make me see:
I close my eyes and see you:
so little, small, growing too fast,

like my body and mind.

Loving you was hard and fierce

Decisions are hard.
Consequences hurt.

A Man and His Dogs
by Viven Ho
Grade Five

Once there was a man who lived with his dogs in a small house that was old and dusty. His dogs were named Chance and Shaddow. Chance and Shaddow never got off their master's chair. So their master was very frustrated. He tried to pick up his dogs but they were too heavy. That man spent days and days figuring how to get his dogs off his chair.

One day, on April 29th, the man came up with an idea. He went out to town and bought another chair for his dogs. He came back with the chair and put the chair in his house. When the dogs saw the new chair, they raced to it and sat on it. Now the man got his dogs off his chair and was very tired. So he sat on his comfortable chair to rest.

Le temps perdu
par le Secondaire III

Où est passé ce temps,
Ce temps tant regretté,
Il s'est envolé,
On ne sait où!
Perdu dans l'univers
Dans la mer
De ma mélancolie
J'aimerais retrouver ce temps perdu

The Legacy Hunter:
A translation of Martial's Poem, Epigram I.10
by Cheryl Meriales and Jane Potopova
Secondary Four

There was a hag, Maronilla,
Pursued by the eager Gemellus.
in truth, she was no Cinderella,
Yet the man's pursuit remained zealous.
So why his desire, pleading and pitch?
Maronilla was really a witch!
Money, my friends, it was aflowing.
Moreover, her health was not glowing.

The Bear
by Stephanie Terfloth
Grade Two

As the bear awaits his pride,
By the seashore he can not hide.
Behind a rock or the biggest sun of beams.
As he roars there's a whale,
And there's a phin {dolphin},
There's a walrus that just won't do,
But there's a fish, just enough to fit my golden dish.
Yummy!

Metaphor
by Pinar Büyükkurt
Secondary Four

A new idea is a sweater you're trying on for the first time. It caught your eye from a distance, something unfamiliar. Others try to sell it to you, but you know enough to trust your own intuition. You stare, shyly at first then questioningly, wondering how it would look on you, how it would reflect who you are. You try it on for size, another color, another design. Another approach, another wording, another perspective. You twist and turn in front of the mirror, trying to see yourself from every angle, trying to judge how it fits. You stretch it and pull it, trying to give it a new shape, seeing how flexible it is. It may clash with something else you have. You may abandon it. Or you may not like it once you've had the chance to see how it fits you. So you discard it, put it back, and continue on your way, headed for another department. Who knows, that particular idea may be just the thing someone else is looking for . . .

Une Aventure en Traîneau
par Marta Cybulsky
Deuxième Année

Un jour moi je suis allée à la maison de ma cousine. On est allées glisser. Le traîneau allait très haut. Nous avions très peur. Quand on était dans les airs on avait très peur. On est presque tombées. C'était très bon. On ne pouvait pas voir beaucoup. Après on a dit abracadabra! et on est descendues. On a vu notre mère. Notre mère était très surprise.

Princess Diana
by Amanda Apostolakis
Grade Five

Diana was sweetest,
And dear as she could be;
She always thought of others and she helped them when she could, and she was just as pretty too as she was sweet and good.

The angels up in heaven must have known Diana was fair, her love would add with beauty to the heavenly choir up there.

So one day, they came down to earth and claimed her for their own although dear Diana was sadly missed by everyone she'd known. It seemed her dear ways and her sweetest smiling face would only help make heaven a nearer, dearer place.

Dear Mme Hébert,

Thank you very much for all the effort and enthusiasm you have invested in our school in your first year. We will always remember you for the interest you took in the students and for your positive and supportive response to us.

Thank you,

Dear Olivia,

Everyday when you rush through the door like a shooting dart
Your beautiful smile warms up our heart
Always so eager to share right from the start
Your pleasures, your sorrows, your ideas, your larks!

We love you so dearly and want you to know
How special you are and how much you've helped us grow,
You're a ray of sunshine sparkling on the snow
A precious gift all wrapped up with a bow!

You've many accomplishments all lined up in a row
Great soccer, skiing, swimming, at tennis a real pro!
Smart, creative, funny, get up and go
A reliable friend, as your buddies well know!

Alert, quick, fast as an arrow,
Dedicated, compassionate, anything but shallow!
Along life's path the seeds of love you will surely sow
Because it's your kindheartedness that always steals the show!

With much love from your family . . .
